

ONGOING SUPPORT

Since the beginning of the Health Crisis, although most of the catering sector is in lockdown, some services are still operating. A number of contract caterers and restaurants are continuing to provide meals to hospital patients, healthcare workers, the elderly and isolated. The rest of the profession is getting ready to re-open and some are thinking outside the box.

Whatever you decide to do, Robot-Coupe will continue to provide support.

While protecting both your health and that of our employees, we can:

- Deliver our products to healthcare and other institutions, so they can continue to provide meals.
- Support distributors by guaranteeing the availability and shipping of spare parts.
- Provide step-by-step guidance for the correct use and maintenance of appliances.
- Help users to develop food applications processes and create new recipes.
- Organise remote demonstrations.

A well-equipped kitchen = efficient, quality production for establishments that are continuing to operate.

A well-equipped kitchen = the guarantee of a limited number of workers in the kitchen.

A well-equipped kitchen = the pre-requisite for an efficient, productive and durable resumption of business.
